“If you receive a bowel cancer screening kit, use it as soon as possible. You could stop cancer before it starts.”

Dr Austin, Consultant Colorectal Surgeon

NHS

Regular screening could stop cancer before it starts.

Bowel cancer is one of the most common cancers and regular screening can help prevent it. The free NHS bowel cancer screening kit is available to everyone in London aged 56–74. The kits are for people with no symptoms and most get the all clear.
